Dear Author/Authors,

Greetings from AISSMS IOIT!!!

Congratulations on the acceptance of Climate Analyzer: Deep Learning for Vegetation Stress Detection and Short-Term Risk Forecasting with Paper ID: 1147 for the presentation in ESCI 2026 to be held at AISSMS IOIT, Pune.

As a next step, you are requested to complete the registration process by paying registration fee on or before 03/01/2026. Only one author will be given a Presentee Certificate after paying the paper registration fee. If the co-authors want a conference certificate, then select the "Non Presenter" category in the payment link. The link for the payment is given below for your reference.
Note: The international participants are requested to make the payment through the second gateway.

Payment Link: <https://www.explara.com/e/8th-ieee-international-conference-on-emerging-smart-computing--informatics-esci-2026>

We request you to send the camera ready paper as per the modifications suggested by reviewers' & TPC in Microsoft Word File or Latex Zip Folder and PDF to the following e-mail id before 03/01/2026, after the payment is made to include your paper in proceedings.

E-mail id: escipublication2026@aissmsioit.org

You are advised to address the following comments in your Camera Ready Copy (CRC) suitably which are intended to help you to improve your paper for final publication.

(1) Reviewers' comments are given below. You are requested to highlight changes made according to reviewers' comments in red color.

- The issue discussed in the manuscript is timely and relevant to the real world. It implies a software-based system of utilizing the imagery of Sentinel-2 and ERA5-Land climate data to locate vegetation stress and forecast immediate climate hazards. The hybrid approach to stress mapping using spatial CNN and climate forecasting using the LSTM makes sense and is appropriate to what is going on in environmental monitoring and applied AI.
- The article is correctly structured, simple to read and can be duplicated. It consists of distinct steps of preprocessing and publicly available datasets. The seasonal NDVI baseline self-labeling approach is scalable, and it does not need to be annotated manually, which simplifies its application in reality. Possibly, risk products that are readily comprehensible and can be taken are a combination of the extent of vegetation stress and the forecasted climate anomalies.

· The work is mostly system-level and incremental since analogous CNN-LSTM fusion techniques of NDVI and climate data have been investigated previously. It would be more evident that it is the novelty that is more distinct. The heavily reliance on NDVI-based labels to train and evaluate its performance is one of the major limitations that lead to the circle validation and thus limit the claims on the independent stress detection performance, and the rule-based fusion thresholds might not be generalized to other regions or crop species.

· The experimental assessment is likewise restricted in geographic terms and lacks cross-region assessment, uncertainty assessment, test of statistical significance, or comparison with the less complex models such as direct NDVI thresholding or conventional time-series models. In general, the piece is a nice applied work, which is applicable in life. Nevertheless, it requires a considerable number of modifications, such as enhanced validation, increased experimenting, quantification of uncertainty, and a clear description of what is novel, to comply with the IEEE standards of research publication.

I. The paper must be in an IEEE format with a minimum of 5 and a maximum of 6 pages.

II. Please check that your paper contains the following.

- Paper Title
- Author Name
- Author Affiliation
- All authors can mention their e-mail id. It is necessary to mention the e-mail id of the corresponding author and mark the e-mail id of the corresponding author using a star.
- Authors should not mention designation etc. in the name and affiliation part below the paper title. You are requested to mention only the name, college/organization name, and e-mail ids of all the authors compulsorily. However, they may mention acknowledgment if necessary (at the end of the paper-prior to references). Kindly mention the full name of your institution and city name.
- Abstract and Keywords
- Introduction
- Main Content
- All figures, tables, and equations are properly numbered. Cite all figures and tables used in the body of the text.
- Check English sentences, grammars and spelling carefully.
- Use high-resolution images for a better view
- The figures/tables should be readable and clear, with readable legends.
- Conclusion
- References - Add enough references, which are appropriately referred to in the text.

III. Submitted manuscripts must be from the author's work only which includes text, figures, and tables. If some part of the paper is from the work of others then permission should be taken for it. Information in manuscripts must always be cited.

VI. Citations should be given close to the information within the sentences or at the end of the sentence, not after several sentences or near the end of the paragraph. Even when citations are given, the exact copying of a whole sentence or paragraphs should be indicated by quotation marks. Furthermore, the reuse of part of a published figure or table requires copyright permission from the publishers that hold the rights. All re-published figures and tables should explicitly indicate the source.

V. All references which are cited must be complete in terms of details like year of publication, vol. no., issue no, pages, name of conference/journal, etc. wherever required. All references listed in the end (under the reference section of your paper) must be cited in the body of the text.

VI. The version of this final CRC will be used for the preparation of the conference schedule, proceeding, and will be sent to IEEE.

VII. You are requested to submit the following files after renaming those with your paper id.

- Revised paper source file: Either in WORD file (.docx format) or in LaTeX (For latex, all the associated files should be given as zip file).
- Revised paper in pdf files also.

VIII. CRC should have less than 10% single source similarity (plagiarism) and an overall similarity (plagiarism) of less than 30%.

Note:

* Please note that IEEE will make a quality check of each final paper before sending it for production. If any issue of plagiarism is detected which is not within the IEEE policy then the paper may be rejected even though authors might have registered and presented. If the modifications suggested by reviewers and TPC are not included properly then your paper will not be published in IEEE explorer and the organizing committee of ESCI 2026 will not be responsible for it.

Hope to see you all at the Conference.

Regards

Team ESCI 2026

COPYRIGHT TRANSFER

The undersigned hereby assigns to The Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, Incorporated (the "IEEE") all rights under copyright that may exist in and to: (a) the Work, including any revised or expanded derivative works submitted to the IEEE by the undersigned based on the Work; and (b) any associated written or multimedia components or other enhancements accompanying the Work.

GENERAL TERMS

1. The undersigned represents that he/she has the power and authority to make and execute this form.
2. The undersigned agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the IEEE from any damage or expense that may arise in the event of a breach of any of the warranties set forth above.
3. The undersigned agrees that publication with IEEE is subject to the policies and procedures of the IEEE PSPB Operations Manual.
4. In the event the above work is not accepted and published by the IEEE or is withdrawn by the author(s) before acceptance by the IEEE, the foregoing copyright transfer shall be null and void. In this case, IEEE will retain a copy of the manuscript for internal administrative/record-keeping purposes.
5. For jointly authored Works, all joint authors should sign, or one of the authors should sign as authorized agent for the others.
6. The author hereby warrants that the Work and Presentation (collectively, the "Materials") are original and that he/she is the author of the Materials. To the extent the Materials incorporate text passages, figures, data or other material from the works of others, the author has obtained any necessary permissions. Where necessary, the author has obtained all third party permissions and consents to grant the license above and has provided copies of such permissions and consents to IEEE

You have indicated that you DO wish to have video/audio recordings made of your conference presentation under terms and conditions set forth in "Consent and Release."

CONSENT AND RELEASE

1. In the event the author makes a presentation based upon the Work at a conference hosted or sponsored in whole or in part by the IEEE, the author, in consideration for his/her participation in the conference, hereby grants the IEEE the unlimited, worldwide, irrevocable permission to use, distribute, publish, license, exhibit, record, digitize, broadcast, reproduce and archive, in any format or medium, whether now known or hereafter developed: (a) his/her presentation and comments at the conference; (b) any written materials or multimedia files used in connection with his/her presentation; and (c) any recorded interviews of him/her (collectively, the "Presentation"). The permission granted includes the transcription and reproduction of the Presentation for inclusion in products sold or distributed by IEEE and live or recorded broadcast of the Presentation during or after the conference.

2. In connection with the permission granted in Section 1, the author hereby grants IEEE the unlimited, worldwide, irrevocable right to use his/her name, picture, likeness, voice and biographical information as part of the advertisement, distribution and sale of products incorporating the Work or Presentation, and releases IEEE from any claim based on right of privacy or publicity.

Information for Authors

AUTHOR RESPONSIBILITIES

The IEEE distributes its technical publications throughout the world and wants to ensure that the material submitted to its publications is properly available to the readership of those publications. Authors must ensure that their Work meets the requirements as stated in section 8.2.1 of the IEEE PSPB Operations Manual, including provisions covering originality, authorship, author responsibilities and author misconduct. More information on IEEE's publishing policies may be found at http://www.ieee.org/publications_standards/publications/rights/authorrightsresponsibilities.html Authors are advised especially of IEEE PSPB Operations Manual section 8.2.1.B12: "It is the responsibility of the authors, not the IEEE, to determine whether disclosure of their material requires the prior consent of other parties and, if so, to obtain it." Authors are also advised of IEEE PSPB Operations Manual section 8.1.1B: "Statements and opinions given in work published by the IEEE are the expression of the authors."

RETAINED RIGHTS/TERMS AND CONDITIONS

- Authors/employers retain all proprietary rights in any process, procedure, or article of manufacture described in the Work.
- Authors/employers may reproduce or authorize others to reproduce the Work, material extracted verbatim from the Work, or derivative works for the author's personal use or for company use, provided that the source and the IEEE copyright notice are indicated, the copies are not used in any way that implies IEEE endorsement of a product or service of any employer, and the copies themselves are not offered for sale.
- Although authors are permitted to re-use all or portions of the Work in other works, this does not include granting third-party requests for reprinting, republishing, or other types of re-use. The IEEE Intellectual Property Rights office must handle all such third-party requests.
- Authors whose work was performed under a grant from a government funding agency are free to fulfill any deposit mandates from that funding agency.

AUTHOR ONLINE USE

- Personal Servers. Authors and/or their employers shall have the right to post the accepted version of IEEE-copyrighted articles on their own personal servers or the servers of their institutions or employers without permission from IEEE, provided that the posted version includes a prominently displayed IEEE copyright notice and, when published, a full citation to the original IEEE publication, including a link to the article abstract in IEEE Xplore. Authors shall not post the final, published versions of their papers.
- Classroom or Internal Training Use. An author is expressly permitted to post any portion of the accepted version of his/her own IEEE-copyrighted articles on the author's personal web site or the servers of the author's institution or company in connection with the author's teaching, training, or work responsibilities, provided that the appropriate copyright, credit, and reuse notices appear prominently with the posted material. Examples of permitted uses are lecture materials, course packs, e-reserves, conference presentations, or in-house training courses.
- Electronic Preprints. Before submitting an article to an IEEE publication, authors frequently post their manuscripts to their own web site, their employer's site, or to another server that invites constructive comment from colleagues. Upon submission of an article to IEEE, an author is required to transfer copyright in the article to IEEE, and the author must update any previously posted version of the article with a prominently displayed IEEE copyright notice. Upon publication of an article by the IEEE, the author must replace any previously posted electronic versions of the article with either (1) the full citation to the IEEE work with a Digital Object Identifier (DOI) or link to the article abstract in IEEE Xplore, or (2) the accepted version only (not the IEEE-published version), including the IEEE copyright notice and full citation, with a link to the final, published article in IEEE Xplore.

Questions about the submission of the form or manuscript must be sent to the publication's editor.

Please direct all questions about IEEE copyright policy to:
